Youngsville Public Library launches three-day fund drive in observance of National Library Week to meet maintenance costs and provide needed improvements.

The Hon. Clifford L. Clark, secretary of the Dept. of Commerce, Pennsylvania, will visit Warren as principal speaker at the membership campaign kick-off of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau.

PENNSYLVANIA
Pennsylvanians vote in a primary election Tuesday highlighted more by issues, especially constitutional revision, than by candidates.

THE NATION
South Vietnam's army is alerted for a new Communist offensive. American leaders think it a case of war jitters.

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford says he foresees a leveling off of U.S. efforts in Vietnam with increased fighting effectiveness of South Vietnam's forces.

The telephone strike continues as a federal court lifts a Kentucky injunction against the union and employees in Alabama ignore a state judge's back-to-work order.

The National space agency, already braced for heavy cuts in its 1969 budget is accused in an official government report of having erred in not insisting on competitive bids for a multi-million-dollar subcontract.

Senator Hugh Scott introduces a bill authorizing the striking of one million commemorative half dollars as a memorial to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

In an unprecedented step, the Interstate Commerce Commission moves to force railroads to meet certain standards in passenger train accommodations.

SPORTS
Three area track meets are scheduled for today. Warren is at Rocky Grove, Eisenhower is at Southwestern and Townville is at Youngsville.

Warren High golfers defeated Corry in golf and tied Oil City when the three schools met in a triangular match Monday. Matt Voight's 83 was low score for Warren.

Dick Tiger, the 39-year old fight champion is now a lieutenant in the Biafran Army. The world's light-heavyweight boxing champion will fight for a $100,000 purse to aid his country's fight for freedom from Nigeria.

Baseball has its ups and downs. The Detroit Tigers are seeking their 10th straight win. The White Sox are looking for their first, after nine losses this year.

South African Olympic officials are showing a predictable reaction to the nation's rebuff from the International Olympic Committee. They have asked for the resignation of the entire IOC Executive Board.

South Vietnam Alerted For New Communist Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's army in Saigon and 11 outlying provinces was ordered on full alert Monday, apparently because incidents of the past three days convinced officials the enemy is about to launch a second big offensive against the capital.

Key sources laid the alert to a case of war jitters. A U.S. mission spokesman said: "No alert or any warning has been issued to American personnel."

Another source said U.S. military police in Saigon had been told to exercise caution in the next few days. Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy were briefed on Vietnamese intelligence reports, but the source described this as routine.

Vietnamese intelligence reports asserted the attack would be with all the fury of the Tet offensive in February that wrought havoc in Saigon.

The alert seemed to put little reliance on Operation Complete Victory, the biggest allied offensive of the war now sweeping the 11 provinces around Saigon in an attempt to flush enemy forces.

This drive by 100,000 allied troops, launched April 8, has encountered small North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units but not the big divisions sought.

What touched off Vietnamese jitters was the defection Friday of a North Vietnamese colonel — the highest ranking officer to turn himself over to the allies in the war. Vietnamese sources said the colonel turned over plans for an attack by upward of 5,000 troops on Saigon Monday. He said for some reason the attack was called off.

The colonel's defection and telling of plans for an attack led to U.S. skepticism that the enemy planned anything big for the present against Saigon.

"If you were the Viet Cong and one of your high ranking commanding officers defected and spilled his guts about an upcoming attack would you go ahead with it?" one U.S. official asked.

Saigon police, however, pointed to two other suspicious incidents. They reported a bus en route from the Mekong Delta was stopped outside Saigon Saturday and police found seven rifles and 40 cases of TNT with detonators in baskets of vegetables. Twenty-one persons were held for questioning.

Police uncovered an arms cache of nine automatic rifles in Saigon's 3rd Precinct Sunday night and arrested seven suspected Viet Cong.

Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau Sets Kick-off for May 14

The Hon. Clifford L. Jones, secretary of the Department of Commerce for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will visit Warren May 14 to be principal speaker at the membership campaign kick-off of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau.

to the economy of our area, Dilks continued.

Among those who will attend the May 14 dinner will be members of the vacation bureau from both Warren and Forest Counties, and civic and business leaders from the entire area.

The membership committee of the bureau will receive their assignments for enrolling members and every business in the two-county area will be invited to join in supporting the aims of the new agency.

The Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau was organized in January of 1967 by the Warren County Development Association and the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce. It has functioned since then as a part of the development association but is now in the process of incorporation.

The development association intends to concentrate its efforts in the future on problems of industrial development.

The vacation bureau has adopted an operating budget of $20,000 for the 1968-69 fiscal year and has advance pledges of $5,000 toward that goal.

Forest County also intends to designate the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau as its tourist promotion agency and, through this joint effort, the two counties will be eligible for additional matching state funds.

Clifford L. Jones was appointed Secretary of the Department of Commerce by Governor Shafer on January 17, 1967. He has had fifteen years of executive experience in the areas of industrial development, com-

CLIFFORD JONES

Vacation bureau chairman Robert C. Dilks said the dinner will be held at the Three Flags Inn to launch the first official membership drive for the newly organized tourist promotion agency.

It is most appropriate that Jones will be our keynote speaker, Dilks said, since the vacation bureau is partially supported by the commonwealth's tourist promotion matching funds program administered by the Department of Commerce.

Jones is one of our state's most able leaders, an excellent speaker, and very knowledgeable about the benefits and the importance of the tourist industry

Election Highlighted More by Issues Than Candidates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pennsylvanians vote in a primary election Tuesday highlighted more by issues, especially constitutional revision, rather than candidates.

The major battle, in a campaign marked by citizen disinterest, appears to be shaping up over the five proposed amendments to the state Constitution.

Gov. Shafer, an announced favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, confined his campaigning to support of the constitutional proposals. Joining him in urging constitutional revision was a bipartisan team of state leaders, including two former governors, Republican William W. Scranton and Democrat George M. Leader.

The governor says Tuesday's primary may be one of the most important elections in Pennsylvania "in this century." But he warns that voter apathy could endanger approval of constitutional revision.

The constitutional proposals would revamp the judiciary, local government, legislative apportionment, tax, and finance articles of the state's 1874 Constitution.

Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr. and Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court publicly have expressed opposition to the judicial question. Few others have declared their opposition openly, but many members of the minor judiciary are known to be working against it.

Andrew J. Watson, chairman of the Constitutional Party, voiced opposition to all five constitutional proposals over the weekend, saying, "There is no reason in the world to approve the questions."

The Constitutional Party has 3,952 voters registered in the state.

Republican State Chairman John C. Jordan and Democratic State Chairman Thomas Z. Minehart have endorsed all five constitutional questions. Republicans have 2,595,279 registered voters in the state and Democrats 2,550,295.

State registration of all voters is 5,211,569. Of the statewide total, 62,043 voters are registered as independent and minor party members who will be eligible to vote on the constitutional proposals.

The main event between candidates is a Democratic affair pitting U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, 68, against U.S. Rep. John H. Dent, 60, for the Philadelphia's Senate seat. Clark is seeking nomination for a third term.

Election At a Glance
To be elected — Delegates to Republican and Democratic national conventions; State Committee members; six State House of Representatives in special elections; presidential popularity contest.

Constitutional proposals — five to be decided by yes or no vote.

To be nominated — U.S. Senate, 27 congressmen, State Treasurer, Auditor General, Superior Court judge, 25 state senators, 203 State House of Representatives.

Eligible to vote — 2,595,279 Republicans, 2,550,295 Democrats, and 3,952 Constitutional party members. In addition, 62,043 voters registered as independents and minor party members will be eligible to vote only on the constitutional proposals and nothing else.

VOTING HOURS — 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

POLLING PLACES — 9,460.

Space Agency Suffers New And Damaging Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency, already braced for heavy cuts of its 1969 budget by the House next week, has suffered a new and damaging setback: An official report that it erred in not insisting that a multimillion dollar Lunar module subcontract be awarded through competitive bidding.

The subcontract for radar equipment, was estimated originally at $23.4 million. It already has cost the government $112 million, says the General Accounting Office, the agency which checks executive spending for Congress.

Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. is the prime contractor for the lunar module, one of three major sections of the Apollo spacecraft that is to take men to the moon. The subcontractor named in the GAO report is the Radio Corporation of America.

Citing the report on the Senate floor, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, ranking Republican on the Senate Space committee, said she has generally opposed any large scale cuts in the space budget but added: "If the Grumman radar subcontract is illustrative of the manner in which the space agency maintains surveillance over its appropriated funds, it would appear that substantial savings could be realized merely by strengthening the agency's contracting practices."

The GAO report is almost certain to have an immediate effect on the House, whose members expect to begin debate May 1 on the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Smoking, Fires Banned in Forest

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, has issued a proclamation banning activities that could result in fire due to the current critical situation in the Pennsylvania forests.

The proclamation states that the smoking of tobacco in any form and the building of camp fires or the burning of brush or other rubbish within the woodlands or within 200 feet of woodlands within in any county of the Commonwealth is forbidden.

Scott Introduces Bill For King Half Dollars

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Hugh Scott, Tuesday introduced a bill to authorize the "striking of one million commemorative half dollars" as a memorial to the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In addressing his fellow senators Scott said, his bill would authorize the coinage of 50-cent pieces in recognition of the outstanding services of Dr. King to the cause of the individual rights and the equality of men.

"The loss of Dr. King leaves a great void in our society," said Scott, "but we all know he will never be forgotten. He stood for the highest of American ideals and fought for them until he drew his last breath on earth."

"He fought for jobs; he fought for housing; he fought for education. More importantly, though, Dr. King was relentless in the pursuit of equality for all men black and white."

The Scott bill provides for the striking of one million commemorative half dollars, to be sold at par value to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. Fund. The fund, return, will re-sell the coins, the profits from which are to be used for the education of less fortunate individuals at Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.

The profile of Dr. King will appear on one side of the coin with the dates 1929-1968 and on the reverse side there will be the field of Morehouse College.

ROD AND GUN CLUB LEVELED
All that remained of the newly remodeled, story and a half Sheffield Rod & Gun Club was a heap of blazing rubble when firemen arrived on the scene early Monday morning. Three trucks and 35 men from the Sheffield Fire Dept. assisted by firemen from Clarendon, Kane and firefighters from the Dept. of Forest and Waters arrived on the scene shortly after midnight too late to save the frame structure valued at an estimated $25,000. According to a spokesman at the Sheffield Fire Dept. the cause of the blaze is unknown. Firemen were on the scene about three and a half hours. They were able to contain the blaze to the immediate area of the club house consequently preventing a serious forest fire. (Photo by Curtin)

Concert Assn. Hits 49.7% Of Goal

Five hundred and nine members had been enrolled at the Warren Concert Association headquarters when the office closed Monday evening at 5 p.m.

Yesterday was the first report of the one-week drive and the enrollment figure represents 49.7 per cent of the membership goal which is 1,024 - capacity of the Warren High School auditorium.

The drive ends this Friday after which no more memberships will be sold for the season series of four concerts. Members have already been assured of hearing the Norman Luboff Choir and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra plus two other concerts still to be selected.

Volunteers who are securing memberships are urged by the chairman, Mrs. Robert Sokolski, not to wait until the end of the week to report. She asks that workers turn in their reports on a daily basis so they can be processed before Friday.

Headquarters at 510 Fourth avenue are in charge of Mrs. Arthur Hoshino assisted by Mrs. Louis Conroy, Mrs. Albert Hoffman, and Miss Christine Hurd. The special telephone number is 726-1710.

Mrs. Sokolski said that newcomers to Warren or anyone else who has not been contacted by a worker yet is invited to call the office for memberships. Last year's series was a complete sellout and leaders are confident of a record sale for next season, too.

The 1968-69 season is the 21st annual concert series since the end of World War II. The association is a non-profit group operating on the organized audience plan; no single admissions are sold to the individual events and only season members may attend.

Nationwide Telephone Workers Strike Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide telephone workers' strike persisted Monday as a federal judge in Kentucky threw out one of two state court orders which union officials said blocked chances of settling their walkout.

Attorneys for the AFO-CIO Communications Workers, representing some 200,000 strikers in 40 states, were also reported. Asking a federal judge in Mobile to void the Alabama state injunction.

Alabama strike leaders said, meanwhile, the picket lines would remain up in that state.

The union president, Joseph A. Beirne, described the two state-court injunctions obtained by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. as preposterous and anti-union, and said they had dashed hopes for new negotiations to end the wage dispute which started the strike last Thursday. Southern Bell obtained the injunctions on grounds that its contracts with the union still were in force and that workers refusing to cross picket lines of telephone installers were violating the agreement.

Some 23,000 telephone installers, employed by the Bell subsidiary Western Electric Co., are on strike in some 40 states.

About 140,000 employees of state Bell Telephone companies in 15 states whose contracts have expired also are striking.

Many Bell workers in most other states, including Alabama and Kentucky, are refusing to cross the picket lines of the installers.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," Beirne said Sunday after an eight-hour strike review here with his 13-man union executive board.

ICC Can Tell RRs How To Run Passenger Trains

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner ruled Monday, in an unprecedented step, that the ICC has the power to tell railroads how to run their passenger trains.

And he recommended setting minimum standards for the quality of rail passenger service. If the report, by examiner John S. Messer, is adopted by the commission, it will also be the first time in the ICC's 81-year history that the commission has investigated the quality of service provided on passenger trains.

If the commissioners agree with Messer and the commission ruling withstands court challenge, the result could stem the continuing decline in the number of passenger trains. Since 1958 the ICC has permitted more than 500 passenger trains to be discontinued.

Until now, the ICC has been involved mainly in regulating fares and approving railroad requests to end passenger service. The ICC also regulated railroad safety before the new Department of Transportation was formed.

There was no immediate reaction from railroad sources but the carriers are known to feel generally that the ICC lacks power to take actions such as Messer proposes.

His recommendations include:

—Trains operating at distances greater than 250 miles must have meal facilities—if only food-vending machines, on trips of 12 hours or more, they must include sleeping cars and diner-lounge cars.

—Overnight trains must include sleeping cars.

—All passenger-train cars must have air conditioning, heating equipment, lighting, restrooms and drinking water, "all in good operational order." And the cars must be clean.

—The average speed of a passenger train must be at least equal to that of the railroad's fastest freight train.

Messer recommended also that city or county governments be required to buy and maintain their own railroad stations. He urged renegotiated labor contracts, and said ICC accounting procedures should be revised to show more accurately the cost of providing passenger service. He recommended also that railroads be allowed to deduct passenger deficits directly from their federal income tax.

Messer predicted that increasingly congested highways and air lanes will bring passengers back to the railroads. "There is a limit," he said, "to the capabilities and capacities of the highways and the airways and the most economical and efficient means of moving people from one place to another, the railroad, cannot be ignored."

Messer's recommendations were made in a case involving the Southern Pacific's "Sunset Limited" between Los Angeles and New Orleans.

Rider's Club

Two film programs highlighted the semi annual meeting of the Yankee Bush Buccaneers' Rider's Club held Thursday at the home of Richard Graves, club leader. One film entitled "Sparks" was concerned with keeping the country clean, while the second film illustrated the grooming and showing of a horse. The meeting was conducted by Club President Raymond Graves. There were 31 members present. The next meeting will be conducted May 2 from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

California Would Welcome Pa. Teachers

HARRISBURG (AP) — California's top school administrator said Monday his state would welcome any teachers who leave Pennsylvania because they believe they are underpaid.

Mr. Max Rafferty, California superintendent of public instruction, said he does not believe teachers, or other public employees, have the right to strike, but that they do have the right to change jobs to get more money or better working conditions.

"How does a professional better himself?" Rafferty said. "He packs his black bag and leaves if he doesn't get what he wants. There is nothing immoral or illegal about this, it is perfectly proper."

Rafferty made the observations during a brief stop at Olmsted State Airport at Middletown, en route to Lebanon, where he was scheduled to speak later in the day.

Informing that the 82,000 member Pennsylvania State Education Association PSEA had imposed sanctions on Gov. Shafer and the General Assembly for failing to meet its salary demands, Rafferty said California's teachers have not had to resort to sanctions to win pay increases.

Workshops, Dinner Highlight State Historical Meeting

Three separate historical workshops and a dinner will highlight the meeting of Northwestern Pennsylvania Historical Societies scheduled for May 4 at the Voyager Inn, Franklin, Pa.

Subjects featured in the workshops will be practical genealogy, practical archaeology and early transportation. The transportation seminar will be conducted in two parts and will deal with historic railroads of northwestern Pennsylvania.

The genealogy workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Charles Morrison, a professional genealogist, Franklin; and Halver Getchell, a member of the editorial staff of the Meadville Tribune and secretary of the Crawford County Historical Society. Mrs. Morrison will give a general outline of genealogical procedure in Pennsylvania, while Getchell will present a detailed report on available source material in northwestern Pennsylvania. During the genealogy workshop a program of questions and answers will be featured with several genealogy publications on

Got Any Complaints? Vote!

Earlier this month there was a "This Was The Week That Was." There were tragic local stories in the newspaper, President Johnson announced he would not seek re-election, and talked of peace in Vietnam, Martin Luther King was assassinated. We could go on and on.

Such turn of events in everyday American life point out the importance of the citizenry's concern in the preservation of the democratic process under which we live and prosper.

Today we have an opportunity to express ourselves in the making of the future of our government. It is election day; the day Americans can again exercise their rights in deciding the policies and leadership under which they will work and live.

There are many matters of national nature we feel we have no control over. But this is not necessarily true. Good government starts at the grassroots level, and if we don't try here at home we may as well give up any complaints we have on the bigger issues in Washington and abroad.

A Peek at the Crystal Ball

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — There are so many presidential candidates in the display case that it's hard to decide which one to choose. This is probably because everybody is concentrating on what they are all saying they will do, instead of thinking about how they will actually behave after they get into the White House.

To make the choice easier, let us look forward to November, 1969, when the election will be long behind us, and see what the president critics will be writing in the event that . . .

1. Richard Nixon is elected: "President Nixon's decision to grow a beard and wear a shawl will fool nobody. It partakes of the same Madison Avenue impulse which recently led him to paint the western half of the White House black, and more recently to have Lawrence Welk and the Rolling Stones play simultaneously for the White House dinner in honor of Sidney Poitier."

"When President Nixon summoned all Americans to 'come gather together under the great umbrella,' he sounded the inspirational cry that was needed to end the terrible divisiveness rending our society, but the goals of the great umbrella program are scarcely served by his insistence upon being all things to all men."

"His weekly television performance, 'Bedtime at the White House,' in which he and Senator Dirksen, in carpet slippers, read the great documents of American history to bedtime America, would be commendable but for his insistence upon having the documents edited and abridged so as to eliminate complex sentences and polysyllabic words that

The Draft Board

WASHINGTON — "The Republican Draft Board is now in session. Whose case are we hearing today?"

"We have a fellow by the name of Nelson Rockefeller."

"Send him in."
"Mr. Rockefeller, I see by our records that you are requesting your draft status be reclassified from 4-F to 1-A. We're curious about why you want to be classified 1-A at this stage."

"I've always wanted to serve my country, sir, but when I asked to be 4-F, I did it because I didn't want to split the Republican Army. But I've decided now that with all my friends going in, I would be considered a draft dodger."

"That's very interesting, and we certainly admire your change of heart, but we see in your folder that you have said that you don't want to fight in the primaries. How could you be a good Republican soldier if you don't want to fight?"

"I do want to fight, but I believe in just wars against the Democrats. If I fought in the primaries I would be trying to kill my brothers, and this is a matter of conscience with me."

"Nelson, we had classified you 4-F because you had been married twice, you were a member of the Eastern Establishment and you refused to campaign for our dearly beloved Gen. Barry Goldwater in the Battle of '64. We still consider you a security risk."

"I'm a loyal Republican and I would do anything to be drafted. Give me a chance. We've got a tough battle ahead, and you know the Republican Army can't win it with Richard Nixon."

"Nixon is an experienced soldier. He's fought in many campaigns. It's true he's lost a few of them, but I would like to remind you that 'old soldiers never die,' at least not as far as the Republicans are concerned."

"I didn't come here to beg, but if you don't draft me, I'll never be able to face my grandchildren. I'm a poor man, but I'll sacrifice everything if you give me this one chance."

"Nelson, a few months ago you were going to volunteer to fight for the Republican Army. Then, at the last moment, to everyone's surprise, you burned your draft card and announced you were a conscientious objector. How do you square that with what you've been telling us today?"

"I had a change of heart. I was all ready to go in, but I was talked out of it by my friends. They said, 'Don't volunteer and then they'll have to draft you.' So I decided not to go in. But I didn't realize it was so hard to be drafted. I talked it over with my wife and she said, 'You'll never be happy if you don't get in the war.' So that's why I've come down here today. Nobody's more ready to go than I am. I even brought my own ammunition."

"You still haven't made a good case for wanting to be inducted."

Busy During Off Hours

HARRISBURG — It might be worth thinking about on this primary election day 1968. . . . The question often arises as to whether Pennsylvania's law-making brethren "do anything" between legislative sessions—or more specifically, when the Legislature is not in session—as in the case of the current three-week Easter primary election recess due to end Monday.

Actually, and most people may find this somewhat difficult to believe—most lawmakers are busy people indeed when the Legislature is not in session.

To begin with, for the most part have their own jobs to fret with back home—the minor matter of earning a primary living. (They have this to contend with too while the Legislature is in session—which may be one reason why a goodly number of lawyers, dentists, etc., have the "time" to be lawmakers. For a dentist for example, it's just a question of holding off on that toothache until the next time home.)

But we're referring to what lawmakers do legislatively or constituent-wise when the Legislature is not in session.

You would be surprised by how many a lawmaker labors in the vineyard in behalf of constituent interests in between sessions (and during recesses such as the present one).

Hardly a day goes by that we don't see some of the 250-odd lawmakers brethren plodding around Capitol Hill on one mission or another for some luckless sport back home.

It may be a question of a foul-up on a constituent's driver's license or registration tag—with the result that one of the first people such luckless ones turn to is his local lawmaker.

Don't ask them why—no one seems to know exactly, except that most folks seem to think that because the guy happens to be a part of state government and does come to Harrisburg, he should know all the answers.

As a result the lawmaker will be found popping into offices of the State Department of Revenue in an effort to straighten out the foul-up of his constituent—and he usually does get the matter squared away.

Or the local school board may be having some difficulty (not necessarily with the school kids, but perhaps on ironing out kinks in a proposed building program with the State) with the result that the lawmaker receives a "can you help us" call with "those people" down in Harrisburg.

Of course the lawmaker being a politician (and politicians do all they can to help their constituents if they like being re-elected) makes a phone call to the Department of Public Instruction and a conference is set up.

The lawmaker oftentimes goes along with the conferees, which again requires a trip here to Harrisburg.

Actually you can name almost anything that comes to mind pertaining to state government (and what doesn't today) and you'll find a lawmaker in there pitching in behalf of the local problems.

They may not necessarily "want" to bother with the query or request but after all, as the "representative" of their good folks at home, what choice (literally) is left?

In addition to all these local queries which keep lawmakers hopping back and forth, there are actually legislative meetings, conferences, gatherings and similar ilk that require a lawmaker's presence on Capitol Hill.

What people fail to realize is that many a legislative function (as in the case of some committees) continues after the Legislature itself has gone home.

"I can lead the Democrats. With me leading the Republican Army we could get the liberals to defect and the Democrats to surrender. I could end the war in Vietnam and bring law and order to the streets of America. I am a symbol of economic stability. Besides, no one knows what I really think about most of the issues of the day. You have to admit that's a plus."

"Nelson, we will reconsider your case, though at this time we can't give you any assurance that you'll be drafted. Go back to your home and wait until you hear from us."

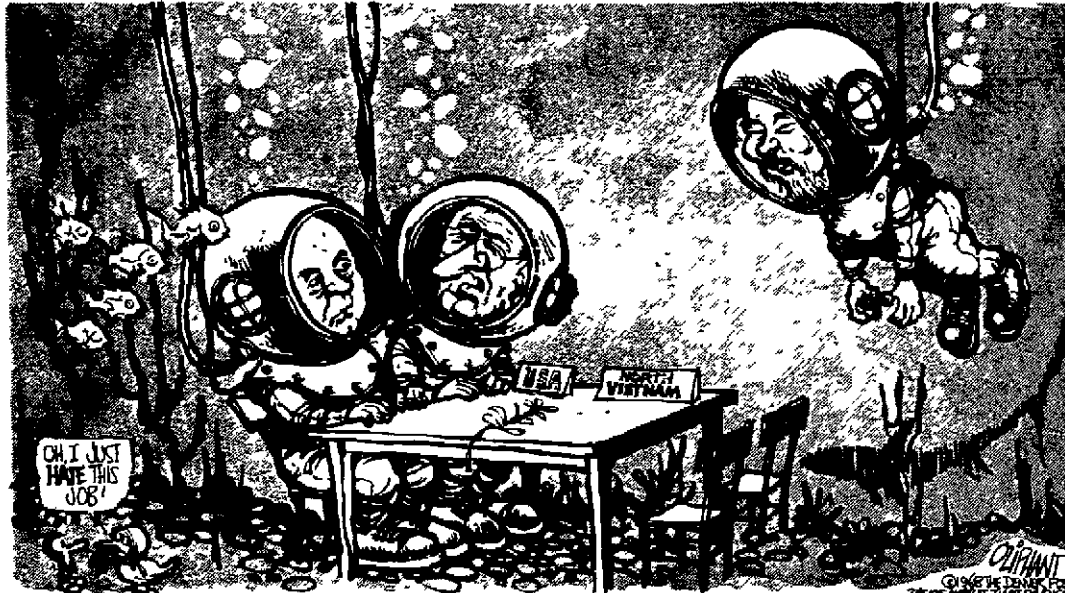

"That's what you told me in 1964. I'm not leaving this draft board until I'm reclassified."

"Nelson, sitting down on the floor is going to do you no good at all. Besides, whoever heard of a Rockefeller staging a sit-in?"

Not Inspired by Trees

WASHINGTON — Trees may have inspired poetry by Joyce Kilmer and other aesthetic souls, but to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., they are for the birds.

Thurmond lives in the Harbour Square complex of apartment and town houses in an exclusive Southwest residential area of Washington. His plush apartment overlooks the Potomac.

Recently the National Park Service planted two rows of Chinese elm trees next to the river along each side of a promenade that happens to pass under the Senator's windows. It was thought this would provide shade for residents and tourists who sit on benches along the promenade.

Everyone agreed it was a scenic improvement. Everyone, that is except Sen. Thurmond. He blew up when he returned home early one evening and beheld the freshly planted, 30-foot elm trees. "They are obstructing my view of the Potomac," he protested. "I don't like them there."

His feelings were conveyed to the National Park Service, which lost no time sending its landscapers back to the area. Eighteen of the trees under Thurmond's windows were dug up and replaced by bushes that do not interfere with his view.

Once a week President Johnson faithfully summons Democratic Congressional leaders to breakfast at the White House, where over bacon and eggs they discuss the coming legislative program. These are sincere sessions, held in the best tradition of the House and Senate where seniority reigns supreme.

If the President should flout seniority and call in freshman and sophomore Democrats, there would be a hue and cry from the oldtimers. However, it might pay dividends. The President would find younger Democrats completely frustrated—particularly in the House, where freshman Democrats morale is at the lowest ebb in three decades.

Morale among the young House Republicans is considerably higher. But they, too, are chafing at what they term the knuckle-headed leadership of their chief Republican satrap, Jerry Ford of Grand Rapids, Mich., who has formed a backroom alliance with Southern Democrats.

But it is the low men on the Democratic totem pole who are the most disgruntled. Their chief regret is that they didn't study geriatrics in college. Then they could better understand the whims and the prejudices of the aged and the aging who dominate the House of Representatives today.

For instance, Democratic sophomores recently proposed, since they were short of office space, that three or four of them share an extra room in the old House Office Building where they could set up a joint secretarial pool. Thus, two stenographers could work for six.

"The elders just pat you on the head and tell the sophomore Democrats figured they could save time, space and money."

Rockefeller the Mystifier

It must be very discouraging to be a politician. Here is the governor of the most influential state of the union, running hard for the presidential nomination of his party, richer even than Bobby Kennedy, abetted by one of the two or three most expensive speech writers in the English-speaking world, addressing the editors of just about every newspaper in America, delivering a much-heralded speech in which he managed to spend 150-billion American dollars — and you know what the headline is the next morning?

In one of the nation's most liberal newspapers, devoting maybe second most inkage in the country to national and world affairs? "Rockefeller Speech - Heard in Silence."

Surely Mr. Rockefeller envisioned other headlines? "Rockefeller Solves Problems of City," might have been one. Or, "Rockefeller Magnifies Editor's" would have been satisfactory. Or even, "Rockefeller Speech - Brings GOP Raves."

But the reporter (Mr. David Broder, one of the nation's best) was as uninspired as the general audience, as uninterested in what Mr. Rockefeller ended up saying as the editors who heard him. A total of two sentences from the massive speech was reproduced in the morning paper — way off, toward the end of the first-page story, which began: "Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York made his long-heralded debut as a 'non-candidate' yesterday, delivering a thirty-minute speech on urban problems, interrupted by applause, to the luncheon meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors at the Shoreham Hotel."

What happened? Well, to begin with, the speech was so heavy with rhetorical pomposity that it would have required a Saturn V Booster to launch it. Would you like a taste?—"Our time of testing now follows—like a twin heritage of challenge — from both these earlier ages (Lincoln's and Roosevelt's). The signs of peril — and the chances for leadership — rise as high on both fronts: from within — and from without — our nation. For we are not only struggling to build peace in the world. We are also striving to live at peace with ourselves."

If you believe that I selected the single worst passage, I give you the peroration which, I have a paralyzing suspicion, somebody at Rockefeller's shop actually thought was eloquent. . . . "I believe deeply in such a new government, such a new leadership, and such a new America."

"We as a people, have — right now — a choice to make. We must choose between new division or new dedication. We can live together as bullies — or as brothers. We can practice retribution or reconciliation. We can choose a life of the jungle, or a life of justice. We cannot have both. We cannot live for long with parts and pieces of both. We must choose."

Really, we must. And it is an objective indication that such emptiness — are boring, and bored the reporters, and permanently traumatized the muses. "The audience reaction," says the account in the Wash-

But the leaders of the House turned down the proposal; the seniority system simply didn't permit it. Those who had served in Congress longer were to get any extra rooms; there could be no pooling by sophomores.

"The elders just pat you on the head and tell you to be good and wait until older Democrats die," grumped one young Congressman.

The Democratic study group, which was organized some years ago to resist the dead hand of aged leadership, has now become dead itself. Its members have become a little older, and are partaking of the fruits of seniority themselves. They have less objection, it seems, to privileges in which they share.

The Democratic Campaign Committee to Re-elect Congressmen is run by 80-year-old Mike Kirwan of Youngstown, Ohio, who typifies how the old men obstruct progress on Capitol Hill. The nation's greatest needs, in his opinion, are a $10 million fish aquarium in riot-ravaged Washington, D.C., and a billion-dollar canal from Youngstown to the Ohio river.

Mike's committee is supposed to parcel out campaign funds to Democratic Congressmen, for reelection. However, the committee never meets; Mike is a self-appointed czar; he doles out the funds as he pleases.

The committee chairmen and the younger members live in two different worlds. They scarcely communicate. The old men sound off in the committee rooms which they control. The young Congressmen can be heard in the steam rooms of the House gym. This is probably the only place in the House that the old codgers don't dominate, because they seldom go in for exercise.

The committee chairmen, of course, have the backing of the Speaker. John McCormack, a fine old gentleman, was once a human dynamo. Today he is creaky with age, hard of hearing and slow of mind. Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the House Democratic Leader, has recovered his health and is loved by everyone. But he's handicapped by the pontifications of the Speaker.

Not even the urgently needed tax bill has been able to surmount the seniority system. House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, the tax czar, was elected from Arkansas back in 1938 as a crusader. But he has lost his crusading spirit. As seniority has given him power and prestige, Mills sits on his upholstered leather throne in the Ways and Means Committee with no one daring to challenge him. Business, labor and political leaders have pleaded for the tax bill. But one man alone is able to mold the economy of the United States at a time when the dollar is in danger and inflation is getting daily worse.

There was a move at the beginning of the 89th Congress to change the seniority system. The reformists then had the votes but were too timid to use them. They were scared off. The result today is stagnation.

Typically, an ineffective termite control program includes treatment of the soil around your house with deep chemical injections. So don't fall for any plan in which the exterminator proposes simply to spray chemicals around the basement or on the ground outside your house. These measures just won't work, since termites live deep underground.

As for costs, they usually range between $180 and $250. They may be much lower or much higher, though, depending on the extent of damage. Competitive bids should indicate the costs of termite control in your home. But be suspicious of a very low bid; it could mean a very slipshod job. Also, avoid any operator who makes his bid on the basis of a certain number of gallons of chemicals to be used. The chemical costs actually are a minor proportion of the total cost.

Termite control firms which guarantee their work, sometimes for as long as the life of the house, require an annual inspection program as a part of the control—at a cost of about $20 a year.

A final tip on avoiding the unscrupulous termite operator: don't let yourself be scared into signing up for termite control services on the grounds that your house may collapse any minute. Instead, take plenty of time to check the reputation, references and fees of any bidder for the job.

Next time, he should furnish his audience with a trot.

Really, we must. And it is an objective indication that such emptiness — are boring, and bored the reporters, and permanently traumatized the muses. "The audience reaction," says the account in the Washington Post, "was noted with concern by some Rockefeller For President sponsors in the room. One of them said afterwards, 'I hope this convinces Emmet Hughes (the Rockefeller adviser and writer whose stylistic touches were evident in the text) that it will take more than the power of his words to nominate Rockefeller.'"

A pity, really. Because Mr. Rockefeller is a very able man. His delivery is first-rate. He has great facility for extemporaneous talk, and his ideas, if one excavates them from all that lard, are worth pondering. For instance, the recognition that the private sector is five times more resourceful than the public sector, and that if the cities are to be saved, it will have to be largely by private enterprise. For instance, his observation that we are spending five times as much money subsidizing our rich farms, as our poor cities. But it takes men of archaeological passion to find Mr. Rockefeller's ideas in Mr. Rockefeller's current prose. Next time, he should furnish his audience with a trot.

Next time, he should furnish his audience with a trot.

Protection Against Termites

If you own a home, take heed: the termite season is in full swing and it will last as long as the weather remains warm. This season, it could be your home which is infected, for the estimate is at least 2,000,000 homes are invaded each year and the problem exists in all but the one state of Alaska.

Termite damage runs to $250 million annually, says the Orkin Exterminating Co. of Atlanta, largest pest control firm in the U.S. So serious is the problem that in many areas the Federal Housing Administration refuses to approve new mortgages unless a termite inspection has been made — and private mortgage lenders are equally tough.

How can you protect your home against damage by termites? And, if your home has already been infested, how can you combat the termites and, at the same time, avoid the significant fringe of gypters now operating in the U.S. who often charge astronomical sums for completely ineffective control jobs?

If you are considering building a new home, consider taking termite control measures BEFORE you build — at less cost to you than if you wait until the home is completed. These often include building mechanical barriers around parts of your house to block entry by termites.

If you are buying a home in an area in which termites are a problem, have the house inspected for termites BEFORE you close the deal, even if the source of your mortgage does not actually require such an inspection.

If you suspect that your home has been invaded by termites, arrange immediately to have an inspection made by a reputable firm; this usually will be free. (If your neighbor's house has had termite problems, it is possible that your own home may have problems as well.)

If you find that your home has become infested, ask two or more reputable, qualified exterminating firms to inspect your home, submit to you a full report describing areas of infestation, methods to be used for control and estimated costs.

A thorough inspector will examine your entire house—not just the basement—probing the wood, and, if possible, even crawling under the building's foundation. But beware of the fast-talking "inspector" who quickly discovers termites almost everywhere — including your trees, shrubs and rafters.

In the first series of screenings throughout Warren County, 244 children were screened with 23 being referred to their personal doctors. There were a large number of people who could not take advantage of the first series, so the Lions made arrangements for this second series. They hope that all parents of pre-school children will take advantage of this free service.

Scoutmaster Welcomed By Troop 8

D. Hugh Siggins was welcomed officially as Scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop 8, at a meeting Monday night in Fellowship Hall of First Presbyterian Church.

Siggins carries on the leadership of Troop 8, which has achieved the highest standards under Scoutmaster John McFate who recently resigned this post.

Troop 8 is sponsored by Jefferson Men's Bible Class of the church.

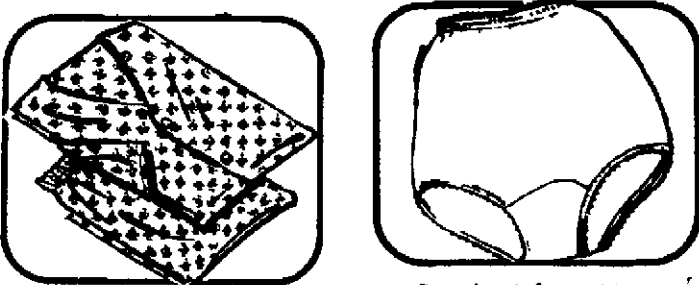

The new Scoutmaster is assisted by assistant Scoutmasters Randy White, Bob Connand and Bob Swanson.

Troop committeemen elected at the organization session are William Lewis, Vance Weld, Eugene Fogle, George Templeton, William Warner, William Nicodemus, James Stevenson, Charles Barrett and Bob DeLong.

William Wolfersberger, Scout Executive, and Dr. John Lasher, training committee chairman, Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, completed the re-registering of Troop 8, for the charter year May 1, 1968, to April 30, 1969. They brought the leaders and committee members up to date on plans for the troop during the coming months, including the camping program.

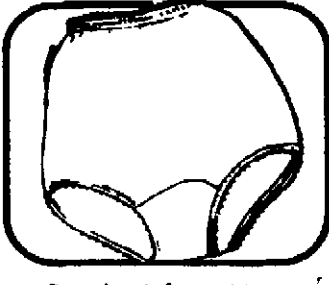

A board of review was also held.

On April 29, Siggins will be formally inducted as the new Scoutmaster for Troop 8, as Scoutmaster John McFate hands over his portfolio.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 17-year-old son Larry wants to wear his hair longer than his father thinks he should. For years his father used to cut the boy's hair but lately haircut time has produced such terrible fights that my husband has told the boy he will not cut his hair anymore—he'll have to go to a barber and pay for his haircuts out of his allowance. I had a private talk with Larry and he told me he hates to be different from the other boys at school. He says short haircuts are considered square and that's all there is to it. He made it clear he does not want to wear his hair so long that his ears are covered up but he does like bangs (which I think are frightful) and he also likes a full look in the back. Ann, I am so sick and tired of listening to my son and his father argue about hair I could scream. Several of my friends tell me they are having the same trouble. Please, once and for all, settle this in your column. Do you think a boy's haircut is important enough to fight about day and night? Do you think parents have the right to insist that a teen-age son wear his hair the way THEY think he should? If you would devote a few paragraphs to this subject, parents of teen-agers all over the country would bless you. —BESIDE MYSELF

DEAR B.: Hair has become one of the most passionately argued subjects of our time—ranking third after Vietnam and the race riots. I have received thousands of letters from Anchorage to Austin—letters from distraught fathers, exhausted mothers and embattled teen-agers. Some readers have sent photographs (front and back) and asked, "Do you think this is too long?" I believe the male teen-age craze for long hair is rooted in (a) the desire to look like the other guys and (b) rebellion against parents, society, or whatever they happen to be fighting. The length of the boy's hair is a good means of measuring a boy's rebelliousness. The kid who wears his hair so long that he attracts stares from strangers is saying, "See, nobody can tell ME what to do." If your son fits this description I recommend the following: Keep quiet about his hair. Make it clear he can wear his hair in bangs down to his nose and braids to his shoulders if he wants to, but he must give it a weekly shampoo. Also, let him know if he gets in trouble with the school authorities because of his hair it will be HIS trouble and not yours. Schools not only have the right but the obligation to set standards and make rules. Some schools ignore hair, other schools have specific regulations. If the boy is told to cut his hair or not come back it must be his decision and he must accept the consequences. Personally, I wish the crew cut would hurry back. It's neater and cleaner. But the style today is longer hair and most kids want to be in style. One day (if you stop bugging him) your teen-age son will cut his hair, but it has to be HIS idea and not yours. When the day comes you will know that your boy has made an important step in the transition from adolescence to manhood. + + +

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of mine invited our family to her home to dinner. At the last moment her stove went on the bum and she called to say we would have to eat out. She and her husband and their three children met our tribe at a neighborhood restaurant. When the food arrived my friend tapped her glass with the spoon and announced, "Please bow your heads for grace." I thought it was a nice gesture but my husband was visibly upset. On the way home he told me he thought grace in a public place was improper if not sacrilegious. I might add he was brought up in a family where grace was never said, they just dove in—like hogs. Comment, please. —WILMA

DEAR WILMA: If grace is a part of the family custom, I see nothing improper or sacrilegious about saying it in public. If praying was the worst thing people did in public this would be a beautiful world. + + +

Jehovah's Witnesses Will Not Meet This Week

The presiding minister of the Warren congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, Theodore Smith, said today that no meetings will be scheduled this week-end at the Kingdom Hall. Virtually all associated with the congregation are expected to attend the assembly in Dunkirk, N.Y., April 26-28. Mr. Smith said that delegates will convene beginning Friday evening, April 26, at 6:45 p.m. at Floral Hall, Chautauqua County Fairgrounds, Dunkirk, N.Y. L. R. Beda, district supervisor of congregations, will deliver the address of welcome and keynote the assembly theme of "Strengthening one another to remain in the faith". A model ministry school will follow with practical counsel on how to share in bringing Bible education to people in their homes. Assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses are noted for their public baptisms and the one at this assembly will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday. The Witnesses believe in complete immersion in water indicating ones dedication to do the will of God henceforth as set forth in the Scriptures. The Saturday evening program will further encourage the Witnesses who have chosen the ministry as a vocation to "fortify ourselves for the future." Mr. Beda will deliver the address which will climax the three day gathering Sunday at 3 p.m. entitled: "Why Does God Permit Wickedness?" Close to 1,000 people are expected to be in attendance. All area persons are invited to attend any and all the sessions in Dunkirk.

"COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE"

LIVE, OUTDOOR COLOR has always been an effective part of interior decoration. Every woman knows the fresh charm flowers bring to a room. With a little thought you can use cut flowers from your garden as an integral part of your color scheme.

But you don't have to be dependent on the seasons or the state of your rose bushes to have outdoor color and life in your home. The "garden look" is good the year around, and it is inexpensive to obtain.

Artificial flowers are much more lifelike today, and you can create your own floral arrangements, so real you have to touch them to be sure. Lacquered flowers, leaves under glass or in plastic, are only a few of the outdoor effects available.

Equally effective, if not more so, are live plants that grow well indoors. Use them in imposing pots in the hall, in a room divider or to brighten an empty corner. Touches of greenery are welcome in any room.

Don't underestimate the psychological effect of floral prints in upholstery fabrics too. Our fabric selection right now is excellent. You'll find prints and stripes and solid tones to choose from, available in lovely furnishings from the nation's finest manufacturers. Come in and look over our showroom.

Allegheny PTA Elects Officers

For 68-69 Term

The new slate of officers was presented by the Allegheny Valley Teacher-Parent Group nominating committee at its meeting at the Clarendon School. The slate was accepted and the following will serve: President—Mrs. Clyde Dennis; 1st vice president—Mrs. Lee Wiedmaier; 2nd vice president—Mrs. Jerry Dorrison; 3rd vice president—Mrs. James Tingwall; secretary—Mrs. Kenneth Miller; and treasurer—Mrs. Richard Barrett. Mrs. Gretchen Tingwall, the retiring president, then introduced Mr. Harry Summers who gave a concise report on the value of music education beginning with our kindergarten children, developing through the grades so that full advantage could be taken of the musical organizations and training at Beatty and Warren Area High School. It was noted that the present music teacher could not possibly provide minimum training requirements in her limited schedule. It was reported that Clarendon Borough had arranged for noontime patrol also which now gives fulltime protection at the busy Clarendon school crossing. The date of May 10th was announced as the time for en-

Officers Elected By Trinity Women

At the recent dinner meeting of Trinity Women of Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church, election of officers for the coming year was the chief order of business for the evening. The following will serve for the 1968-69 term: President, Mrs. Robert Peltz; vice president, Mrs. William Harbert; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Mann; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Songer and Mrs. John Donaldson. The group voted to contribute to the Reverend Lynn Bergman's Migrant Ministry in Potter County, and plan to use the proceeds from a garage sale to be held April 27 toward that purpose. Mrs. Joseph Mathis showed a film, "The Hood Conference", to very interested viewers. The Conference depicted in the film is the annual Provincial Conference, held in June on the campus of Hood College in Frederick, Maryland. Each year clergy and lay leaders from the thirteen Dioceses making up the Third Province meet at Hood for a week of dialogue, discussion, and debate. Always, those who attend come away refreshed and filled with new enthusiasm for the job of being a produc-

South Africa Reacts To Olympic Board Action

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The South African members of the International Olympic Committee called on all members of the IOC's executive board Monday to resign.

Reg Hooey termed the action of the board "illegal and immoral," in a unanimous recommendation that South Africa be barred from the summer games at Mexico City in October.

The nine-man board, in an extraordinary meeting at Lausanne over the weekend, bowed to tremendous pressure and unanimously urged the IOC membership to reverse a previous stand and bar South Africa from the Games.

A mail vote of the 71 IOC members was ordered immediately. There was no indication when the final tally would be made but indications were that South Africa definitely would be out of the Mexico City Games.

The IOC in a majority vote announced at the Winter Games in Grenoble, France, in February readmitted South Africa to the Games after receiving a promise that the apartheid nation would field a mixed team of whites and nonwhites.

The decision set off a worldwide explosion of protest. Led by the African nations, some 40 countries announced they would boycott the Mexico City Games. The powerful Soviet Union and its Communist satellites issued threats.

Avery Brundage, 80-year-old president of the IOC, called the executive board meeting after pressure from Mexico City organizers, who said they feared the Games would be a failure.

The executive board decision Sunday to urge that South Africa be barred came as no surprise although Brundage fought militantly for South Africa, contending the pressures were of a political nature.

Only Sheffield Remains Idle

Knights and Dragons Journey, Eagles Home

The county cinder scene finds three of the four track and field squads in competition this afternoon at 4 p.m. with all three sporting dual meets. The Warren Dragons will travel to Rocky Grove while Eisenhower heads north to meet Southwestern, N.Y., and Youngsville rolls out the carpet for Townville. Sheffield is the only team idle, however, they take to the track Friday.

Dragons Want Victory

The Dragons will be up for victory after losing two heart-breakers last week. The Blue and White fell at the hands of Franklin and Corry both by close scores. Warren however holds two victories under their belt to match their two defeats giving them a .500 mark in dual competition.

The possibility of Rick Nasman back in the lineup for Warren looks mighty slim as the senior athlete is still handicapped by his injury suffered in the second meet of the season.

Coach Andy Randas reported that the thinclads would be carrying light loads today because of a change in the scheduling that moves the Meadowville meet to this Thursday afternoon.

The Orioles' latest meet was last Friday with Franklin where

Looking For No. 2

Eisenhower will be looking for their second dual win of the season when they meet the Trojans this afternoon. Ike holds one victory, capturing their first meet two weeks ago against Ridgway Elkers 100-50.

The Knights recently ended up in ninth place out of 27 class B schools in the Indiana Pa. Invitational. Gary Dalrymple and Martin Hoffman came through for the Blue and Gold taking first places in the pole vault and high jump respectively.

The Trojan squad appears to be having a little trouble this season with six lettermen failing to return because of their own choosing. However, Southwestern sported a total of nine returnees, six senior and three junior lettermen. Coach Tom Priester has filled the event schedule out with hopes of taking the conference this year.

This will be the season opener for the Trojans while Ike holds a slight seasoned advantage.

Eagle Lineup Juggled

Youngsville Coach Harvey Shapiro will be making a few changes in the Red and White lineup as he searches for the top material to make the Eagles go. The Red and White hold a 2-1 dual meet slate and captured a second place in a triangular.

Hurdler George Nelson will be adding the high jump to his schedule this afternoon and the possibility of Gary Wood running anchor leg in the mile relay seems likely.

Coach Shapiro also sees the possibility of changes in the 880 and two mile relays. A couple of new boys in the high hurdles will include Steve Stoc and Richard Pierson while Tom Burleigh runs the low for the first time.

Townville has held two meets this season, losing both, one with Titusville and the other with Cranberry. A two-mile time of 11:55 by Wright was the only Townville first against Cranberry.

With the Eagles holding the upper hand in the field of experience it should prove an easy day for the Red and White.

Quarry Favored

OAKLAND (AP) — Jerry Quarry is the early favorite to defeat Jimmy Ellis Saturday and win the World Boxing Association heavyweight title.

Quarry was a 13-10 favorite Monday in Las Vegas, Nev. "This will give Jerry an added incentive to prove they're not wrong in having so much faith in him," said Jack Quarry, Jerry's father and co-manager.

"This is right down our alley," said Angelo Dundee, Ellis' manager.

Phils Beat Giants, For 5th Straight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cookie Rojas singled home Richie Allen with one out in the 10th inning and the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the San Francisco Giants 2-1 Monday night for their fifth straight victory.

Allen, who did not start because cold weather affects his injured hand, walked as a pinch hitter for winner Rick Wise with one out. He stole second base and reached third on Tony Taylor's single to right field before Rojas connected off loser Frank Linzy.

Wise went the distance with a eight-hitter to even his record at 1-1. Linzy is 1-2.

Consecutive two-out singles by Rojas, Johnny Callison and Tony Gonzales gave the Phillies a run in the third inning against Gaylord Perry.

Wise protected it until the ninth when the Giants scored their first run in 25 innings and the first run off Philadelphia pitching in 26 innings.

With one out Jim Hart singled and Jesus Alou singled him to third. Wise struck out pinch hitter Ollie Brown, but Jack Hiatt, hitting for reliever Joe Gibbon, slammed a run-scoring single.

SORENSEN HURLS 4-HITTER

Doug Sorensen hurled a four-hitter game against Erie East Saturday in Warren High's baseball opener. The Dragons went on to win the game 7-1. The diamond squad is back in action Thursday when they host Erie Prep on Memorial Field at 3:30. (Photo by Pirillo)

Youth Movement Pays — Tigers Go for 10 Straight

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers—looking for their 10th straight victory Tuesday—have reaped dividends thus far from their young pitching staff.

One of the pitchers is a 21-year-old rookie who has chalked up three victories while pitching a total of less than four innings.

Only four of the 11 pitchers on the staff started with the team last season. Manager Mayo Smith has not hesitated to use the young, new pitchers.

So far, left-hander Jon Warden has returned Smith's confidence by grabbing three victories in relief.

"I like the way this boy pitches," says Smith. "He doesn't get rattled out there."

The league leading Tigers, who play at Cleveland in an American League game Tuesday night, have outscored their opponents 47-25, losing only their opener against Boston, 7-3. And the Bengal pitchers—with an average age of 25—have combined to produce a low 2.23 earned run average.

The Tiger pitchers who started the 1967 season include Earl Wilson, at 32 the granddaddy of the pitching staff; Mickey Lolich, 27, and the second oldest; Joe Spina, 26, and Denny McLain, 25.

Wilson, who sported a 22-11 record in the Tigers' unsuccessful bid for the AL pennant last year, has a 2-1 record this season. Spina and McLain each has one victory.

The two other Tiger victories have been snared by rookie Daryl Patterson and Fred Lashner.

Warden has beaten the American League champion Boston Red Sox, the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox in his three appearances.

Coast Baseball

OAKLAND (AP) — Tom Trest's tie-breaking sacrifice fly and Doolley Womack's tight relief pitching paced the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over Oakland Monday night, extending the Athletics' losing string to four games.

The Yankees broke a 1-1 deadlock in the sixth inning when Horace Clarke led off with a single, took third on Mike Ferraro's hit and run single and scored on Trest's long drive to right fielder Reggie Jackson.

Womack replaced winner Fritz Peterson with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth, struck out Sal Bando to end the threat and stopped the A's in the ninth.

Celtics Work Out

For Wednesday Game

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics worked out lightly at Boston Garden and then turned over the court to the Los Angeles Lakers Monday as the National Basketball Association rivals marked time before the second game of their championship series Wednesday night.

Veteran cornerman Tom Sanders, sidelined with back muscle spasms for a week, joined the Celtics in the drill. However, trainer Joe DeLauri said that Sanders would not be able to play before the third game.

ANAHEIM (AP) — Jack Hamilton pitched a three-hitter and singled home the winning run Monday night as the California Angels snapped Washington's four-game winning streak with a 4-2 victory over the Senators.

South's insistence on playing a suit contract was a questionable bit of judgment, but once having made his decision he handled himself very commendably in the play.

Perhaps North should have rebid three diamonds over two hearts. If South by some chance had a preference for clubs, slam was not out of the question. When North, instead, jumped to three no trump, it was unlikely that he held a fit for either of South's suits, and the latter might have left well enough alone.

After South persisted to four hearts, North was obliged to show a preference for spades—which became the final contract.

West opened the deuce of diamonds and the king was played from dummy. South observed that his trump holding was a bit shaky and he decided to single in as many spades as possible by ruffing. At trick two, he cashed North's other high diamond discarding a club, and then he ruffed a diamond with the deuce of spades. When West dropped the jack of diamonds, declarer decided to abandon that suit.

He next played the ace and another heart, trumping in dummy. The ace of clubs was followed by a club ruff and a heart was ruffed with dummy's remaining trump. Declarer's careful timing had netted him the first eight tricks, and at the same time reduced West to his five trumps.

A club was led from dummy and when East covered with the king, South discarded a heart. West was obliged to trump with the three of spades and then lead away from his tenace. South won the trick with the ten of spades.

A heart was returned and West ruffed once more only to surrender the last two tricks to declarer's ace-queen of spades. In all, West was limited to exactly two trump tricks—a very neat performance by South.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 23, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Not everything will go as you planned now, but remain steadfast. Your keen mind and fine commonsense should see you through—and well.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Certain offerings will be out of line, others attractive; all should be investigated before taken on. Don't mix business and pleasure unwisely. Day needs a little push from you.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—A good day! Your mind should be highly stimulated, but action without stress must be your keyword. Details, tedious work, well-handled, can bring fine returns. Science, travel especially favored.

CANCER (June 23 to July 23)—Good stellar influences. Press forward with all the grit and good will you can (and that can be a great deal when Cancerians really try). Strive for better form, precision, system.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—A bright outlook. Get an early, efficient start and maintain a tempo suited to your requirements and abilities. Remain calm in discussions.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—If things go wrong, don't just "let them be". The Virgoan's quick thinking and enthusiasm can boost any mediocre hour or day into quite a rewarding one. Give special attention to occupational affairs.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Mixed planetary influences. You may be uncertain as to how to proceed at times. This is when haste makes much waste and lack of correct information could delay you further. Build, don't squander assets.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Adopt a no-sooner-said-than-done policy if you would net top rewards now. A good day in which to try out new ideas, methods. Don't go to extremes, however.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Wait sufficiently long to ascertain correct data, most desirable methods. When you ARE informed, instructed, take off straight and quickly for designated goals. Aim HIGH!

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—By no means, discount the "little" things, for through these you can often achieve your most worthwhile attainments. Study new trends, suggestions; be practical, avoid extremes.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Your individual touch, a special word at the right moment could mean the difference between the so-so day and a top-flight one. Many opportunities for advancement indicated now.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Take part in constructive enterprises only. Avoid misdirected effort. There are many advantages for the selective taking. Especially favored: Mechanical and scientific pursuits.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly efficient, a lover of order and system, but you must be careful not to go to extremes along these lines. Being meticulous about details is an admirable trait, but, if too "fussy", you will alienate the cooperation of others. Your remarkable memory, properly developed, could become a priceless asset in any field. Music and/or art could happily occupy your free time. You are innately tasteful in dress, courteous, friendly. Your business acumen is extraordinary. Birthdate of: William Shakespeare, poet, dramatist; James Buchanan, 15th President of the U.S.A.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

SQUEAKY VOICES

The relationship between the pitch of the voice and the sex of the person is well known. Men have a lower voice than women because they possess a larger larynx and their vocal cords are longer, broader, and thicker. Changes are more marked in teenage boys when the larynx doubles in size; in girls, it increases only half as much. This explains why men have a prominent Adam's apple. The change in males usually occurs gradually but may take place within a few weeks, along with the development of other sex characteristics.

A woman's voice becomes slightly more masculine after the menopause and more so should her pelvic organs be taken out. A falsetto voice in a mature man carries a stigma of doubtful sexuality but this is undeserved.

A falsetto voice is high-pitched, tense, and shrill. It results from holding the larynx higher than usual. In addition, the voice does not originate low enough in the chest, so that the air does not have enough force to close the glottis completely.

The male with a soprano voice usually has a normal larynx; his trouble is mainly psychogenic in origin. Medical authorities have found that many of these individuals are immature or hypersensitive. Their voice does not deepen at puberty because, unconsciously, they are frightened at the thought of growing up and assuming responsibility.

The man with a falsetto voice often is subjected to ridicule and embarrassment, especially when his voice is mistaken for a female's. Recovery is possible but the psychological aspects must be treated.

TOMORROW: Shingles and Chicken Pox.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

BOWEL CHANGES—WHY?

A reader writes: I'm 62 years old and have been troubled with constipation for the last year. I have a bowel movement every three or four days. Is this natural at my age?

REPLY

No. Changes in bowel habits usually indicate a disturbance along the gastrointestinal tract, provided the diet or way of living has not changed. Get more exercise, drink more liquids, and add fruits and vegetables to your diet. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on constipation.

ABDOMINAL EPILEPSY

S.N. writes: The doctor told us that our 6-year-old niece has abdominal epilepsy. Can you tell us something about this condition?

REPLY

This is an unusual form of epilepsy affecting the nerves that control the abdominal organs. Bouts of abdominal pain and vomiting, along with periods of anxiety, pallor, and flushing recur periodically and are relieved by the usual anti-epilepsy medicines.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINT—

Glass doors should be marked with decals or colored tape.

Tuesday's TV Highlights

MORNING MOVIE on Ch. 11 at 10 a.m. is "The Serpent of the Nile" starring Rhonda Fleming and Raymond Burr. Marc Anthony's infatuation for Cleopatra, Queen of the Nile, and how she used her wiles, only to die knowing her empire is crumbling, serves as the theme of the film.

WHERE THE GIRLS ARE on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 8 p.m. is a special program of contemporary music and comedy sketches and blackouts. Noel Harrison is the star-host. Guests include Cher, Don Adams, The Association, Barbara McNair, the Byrds, and many others.

TUESDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 9 p.m. offers "That Funny Feeling" starring Sandra Dee and Bobby Darin. An aspiring actress and part-time maid meets a publishing executive and invites him to her luxury apartment — one of a number she cleans — unaware it belongs to him.

NEWS SPECIAL REPORT on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 deals with "What Happened to the Riot Report?", a study of the broad range of reactions—official and private—to the March 2 Report of the President's Commission on Civil Defense. Harry Reasoner serves as the anchor man.

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE with Harry Reasoner features "The Weapons of Gordon Parks", an examination of the celebrated photographer's life and career. The program traces the homeless wander-

Makes Eating With FALSE TEETH

Up to 35% Easier
Clinical tests prove you can now eat and chew better—make dentures average up to 35% more effective—if you sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds uppers and lowers more firmly so they feel more comfortable. FASTEETH is not acid—doesn't sour. No gummy, pasty taste. Helps check "denture odor". Dentures that fit are essential to health. So see your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Cadillac

Standard of the World

Ten reasons why you should consider buying a Cadillac now.

1. This is the finest performing luxury car ever built. All 1968 Cadillac models are powered by the largest, smoothest V-8 engine ever put into a production passenger car.
2. This is the most beautiful luxury car of all time. Just look.
3. This is the most popular Cadillac ever offered. This year more people are staying with Cadillac, and more are moving to Cadillac than ever before.
4. There are more built-in luxuries this year. Power windows, as well as power steering, power brakes and automatic transmission are standard on all of the 1968 models.
5. This is one of the best engineered cars of all time. A test drive will prove it to you.
6. There is more comfort in the 1968 Cadillac than ever before. In the ride, in the seats, in the body, throughout the interiors.
7. The 1968 Cadillac is unexcelled in safety and convenience features.
8. Cadillac continues to offer outstanding value, returning a higher portion of its original cost than any other car built in the land.
9. Your present car will probably never be worth more than it is today.
10. Your Cadillac dealer's selection of 1968 Cadillacs is at its best right now.

See your authorized Cadillac dealer.

Trading Slackens, Market Drops Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market took another loss Monday as it suffered under the same influences that had sent the market reeling Friday. The difference was that trading slackened considerably, and many issues came back strong.

The latest raise in the discount rate combined with the warning of Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board that the nation was in "the worst financial crisis we have had since 1931" accompanied the Friday and Monday decline.

Analysts were quick to point out, however, that the market sank after seven straight daily gains and nearly three weeks of generally rising prices based on peace hopes. A correction seemed in order, anyway.

The Monday slide began with a late ticker tape and a drop of 11.50 in the Dow Jones industrial average within the first half-hour. From that point on, however, it was a cautious but increasing recovery.

The Dow industrials ended with a loss of 5.66 at 891.99. This meant that it spent most of the day in a rise of 5.84 points from the bottom it touched in the first 30 minutes.

Volume dropped to 11.72 million shares from 14.45 million Friday.

Analysts said that bargain hunters took over after the original shakeout.

Of 1,509 issues traded, 446 rose and 849 fell. New highs for the year totaled 45 and new lows 24.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 2.0 to 321.7, with industrials off .25, rails off .9, and utilities off 1.6.

Among the 15 most active stocks, the balance shifted all the way to the plus side. Nine rose and six fell. Occidental Petroleum resumed its frequent, occupied post as most-active stock, this time rising 1/4 to 38 1/2 on 159,900 shares.

The New York Stock Exchange index lost 25 cents at $53.12.

Declines outnumbered advances on the American Stock Exchange but the exchange's index gained a cent at $24.71.

THE HARRIS SURVEY

BY LOUIS HARRIS

By 71 to 23 per cent, the American people favor the passage of federal laws that would place tight controls over the sale of guns in this country. These latest results mark a 5-point rise in support of gun control legislation from last August.

Such legislation has been before Congress for over a year, but strong opposition from the National Rifle Assn. up to now has prevented a vote on the measure.

Significantly, people who own guns favor gun control laws by 65 to 31 per cent, better than a 2 to 1 margin.

The number of homes in which occupants say they have guns has now reached a majority, with 51 per cent gun ownership.

The largest incidence of acknowledged gun ownership is found in rural areas—where 78 per cent possess a gun—in the South—with 64 per cent—and in small towns—where 58 per cent own a gun in the household.

Despite the heavy sentiment in favor of gun control legislation, the number of gun owners who say that they would use their weapon to shoot other people in case of a riot has risen from 29 to 51 per cent since last August. The reasons can be found in additional questioning which showed that 48 per cent of all adult Americans now say they are personally more uneasy on the streets as a result of fear of racial violence.

Many added that in the absence of gun control and other measures, they felt they had no alternative but to resort to measures of self-protection.

A cross section of 1,634 homes was asked this question on gun control legislation:

"Do you favor or oppose federal laws which would control the sales of guns, such as making all persons register all gun purchases no matter where they buy them?"

The pattern of gun ownership shows wide variation by region, size of place and by race:

"Do you or does anyone in your house own a gun?"

All Negroes	32	68

Last August and again in this latest survey, all gun owners were asked:

"Would you or a member of your family use your gun to shoot other people in case of a riot?"

USE GUN TO SHOOT PEOPLE IN RIOT

	MARCH PER CENT	AUGUST PER CENT
Would use gun	51	29
Would not use gun	32	62
Not sure	17	9

Students of gun usage under combat and other conditions of stress emphasize that there might be a wide divergence between a persons' expressed willingness to use a weapon and his actual behavior when confronted with a real shooting. So it is undoubtedly an overstatement to conclude that better than half of all gun owners today would actually use their weapons against other human beings.

But the willingness to say they would shoot other people in case of a riot is symptomatic of the tension that exists in this country today. Another question illustrated this apprehension:

"Does the fear of racial violence make you personally feel more uneasy on the streets?"

UNEASE ON STREETS OVER RACIAL VIOLENCE

	UNEASY PER CENT	NOT UNEASY PER CENT	NOT SURE PER CENT

All whites	46	50	4
Whites under $5,000 income	48	49	3
All Negroes	58	30	12
Negroes under $5,000 income	60	31	9

Fear of physical safety due to possible outbreaks of racial violence runs higher among Negroes than whites, and highest among lower-income Negroes.

In the absence of other measures, some Americans clearly have taken to arming themselves with guns. Unquestionably, however, the vast majority of people in this country would much prefer to see steps taken to curb violence. And one key step, nearly three out of four feel, would be to have Congress pass gun control laws now.

Council Accepts Massa Bid

Anthony J. Massa's high bid of $331 for surplus property from the house at 24 Oak st., razed by Warren Borough was accepted Monday afternoon by Warren Borough Council. There were two other bids; from Rex Graham, $311.50; and from Dan Wilson, $210.

The retirement date of Police Chief Michael Evan, who will be 60 years old April 24, was postponed for one year.

A resolution that the borough allow Glade Manor sewage into the borough system was referred to meet a minor legal requirement.

Camporee To Be Held June 7-9

Arnold Allen, general chair - man annual Camporee, Chief Complanter Council Boy Scouts of America, announces this event will be held June 7-9, at Wildcat Park, Ludlow.
